

Why am I receiving a low credit warning even though auto recharge is enabled?

Users who have credits remaining for less than 7 days receive a low credit warning email once per day.

To avoid this, increase your credit warning limit to a level corresponding to your cash burn rate to satisfy the 7-day credit requirement.

You can change your credit warning limit anytime within your account settings or by visiting <https://dash.elest.io/account/payment-options>.
